Introducing Joe and Jane

Here are Joe and Jane, two typical Seniors in the class of 1946; typical because they have known all the ups and downs of high school life, because they "do things," "go places," and "act like" everyone expects Seniors to do and go and act.

During their four years at R. H. S., Joe and Jane have survived all the pitfalls of high school life. They were famous as feeble, frightened Freshmen; superior as sure-of-themselves Sophomores; jaunty as Juniors; and have now become simply satisfied Seniors.

Everything that has been high school has known Joe and Jane: good times, hard work, dances, parties, sports, trips—even studying. Because they can do the hard jobs well and quickly they have been able to have lots of time for fun. That's what has made them what they are—Joe and Jane, typical Seniors.

Now that the happy days are ending, Joe and Jane have collected the memories of their four high school years, and present them in this book,

The 1946 Talisman

We, the members of the Class of 1946, in token of our appreciation of his fifteen years of service as a leader and friend, dedicate this volume to

MR. FRANK W. MAYO

We wish to thank him for his many contributions to the advancement of our education, and to extend to him our every wish for future success and happiness.

THE SPIRIT THAT IS YOU

The spirit of America that has produced great inventions, great men and the great documents of history, is the same spirit that drives young men and young women to be leaders, and to create by hand and brain the greatness of tomorrow.

FRANK W. MAYO

HISTORY OF MR. MAYO

Mr. Frank W. Mayo, who is leaving this year to become principal of Spaulding High School in Barre, Vermont, was born in Houlton, Maine. He obtained his early training at Foxcroft Academy in Maine.

Mr. Mayo attended Massachusetts State College, receiving a B.S. Degree, and later earned his Master of Education Degree at Boston University. He was Principal in schools in Antrim, New Hampshire and Shelton, Connecticut, and came to Rutland in 1931.

Mr. Mayo was one of the two principals to assist in writing the first Guidance Manual for the State of Vermont. He is a member of the Executive Council of the Headmasters Club, and of the Executive Committee of the Vermont Education Association.

During the fifteen years Mr. Mayo has been in Rutland High School, two important changes have taken place. A Guidance Department has been instituted to advise students preparing for college, and to give help to any who need it. The Machine Shop has also been built and a Trade and Industrial Course added to the curriculum.

Mr. Mayo will be remembered for his friendly years of service to Rutland High School as he has worked to make it what it is, one of the most highly-reputed high schools in New England. We wish him success and happiness in his new position, even while we regret his leaving us.

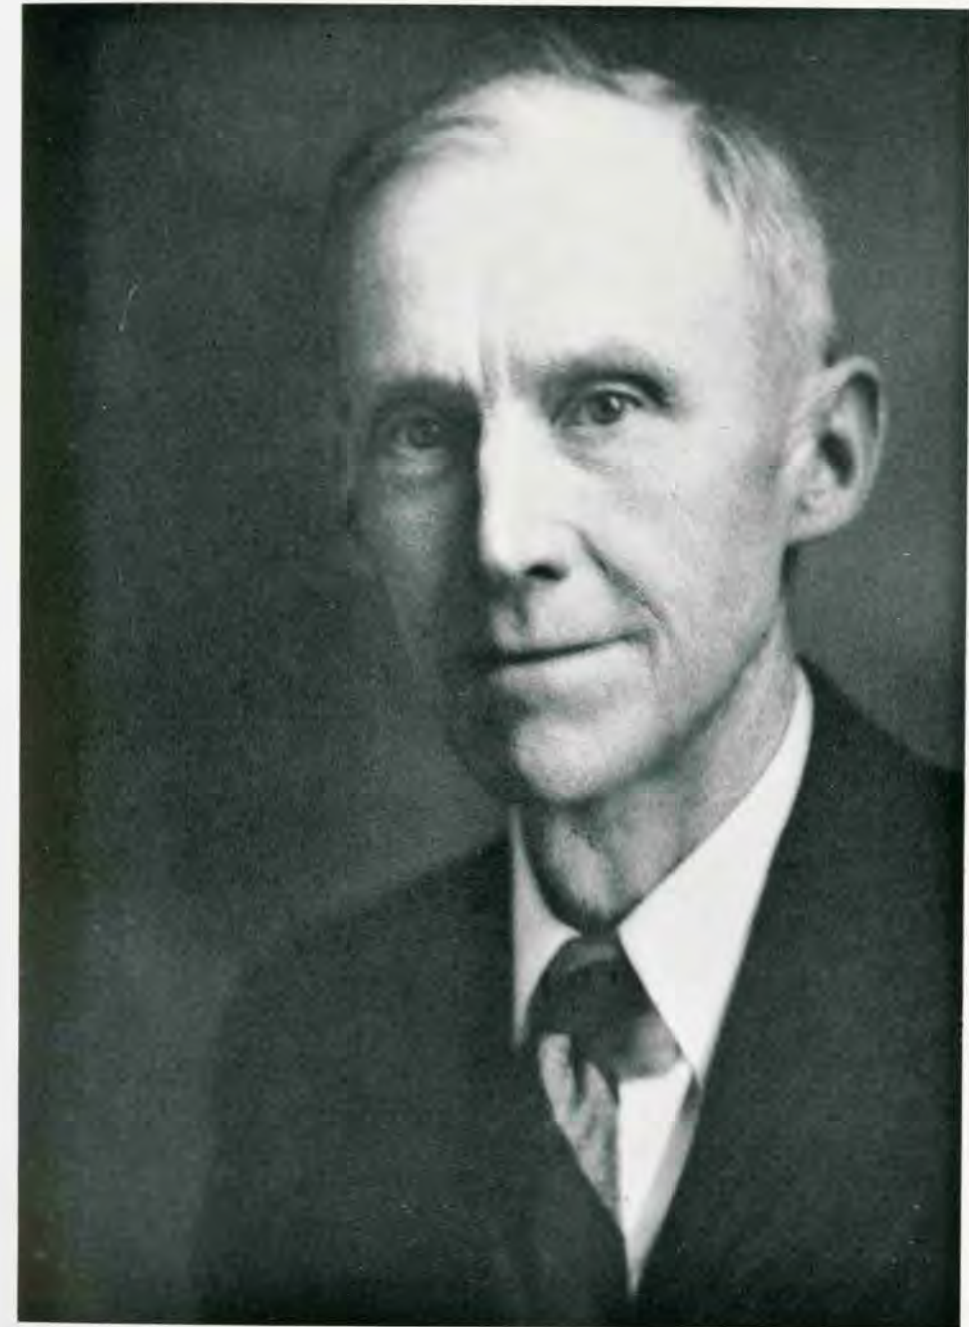

HISTORY OF MR. FAIRCHILD

Mr. William W. Fairchild, who is retiring this year after serving this community well for a quarter of a century, was born in Knoxboro, New York. He attended public schools in New York state and received his A.B. Degree from Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York in 1913. He later attended Columbia University in New York City from which he received his Master's Degree in 1930.

Mr. Fairchild began teaching in 1899. For two years he taught rural schools after which, at different times, he was principal of schools in Knoxboro, Oneida Castle, Belfast, Port Jervis, and Glens Falls, New York. He became superintendent of schools in Rutland in 1921.

During his career in Vermont, Mr. Fairchild has been President of the Vermont State Superintendents of Schools Association, and President of the Tri-County Superintendents of Schools Association. He is a member of the New England Association of School Superintendents and has a life membership in the National Education Association.

During Mr. Fairchild's administration, Rutland schools have undergone numerous changes and improvements. The most notable of these, perhaps, is the construction of the Rutland High School building on Library Avenue to replace the old building on Center Street now known as Meldon Junior High School. For this and other developments toward the betterment of Rutland's schools, Mr. Fairchild will be well remembered. We shall sincerely miss him in Rutland.

TRIBUTE TO MR. W. W. FAIRCHILD

The members of the Staff of the 1946 Talisman join the faculty, student body and citizens of Rutland in expressing to Mr. William W. Fairchild our appreciation of his twenty-five years of service as an intelligent leader and loyal citizen.

President's Address

Almost everyone at this ceremony tonight remembers, and we Seniors will soon learn, how it feels to receive a diploma which signifies that one has met the requirements necessary to be graduated from an American high school. This is something that everyone should treasure. To us in the United States, graduating from high school means more than the fact that we have successfully completed twelve years of education for it means that we have had the privilege of receiving those twelve years of learning in a democracy; a democracy where young people are given the opportunity and are encouraged to develop their minds and bodies independently, where they can make and enjoy the friendship of other individuals, and where they are able to learn how to cooperate with other people.

We take all this too much for granted. We do not realize that if our forefathers had not loved and fought so much for freedom we would not now be living in a democracy. We should, every once in a while, visualize ourselves as part of a totalitarian government where children are taught only what the rulers will them to learn. Then we might be able to appreciate the fact that we are indeed fortunate to be living in the United States.

I think that Rutland High School, as a representative school in a democracy has a principal and a staff of teachers which any school would be proud to claim as its own. I believe also that our class of 1946 has achieved much and has left a record that is worthy of Rutland High School.

FRANCIS ST. MARY,
President.

Class Night Song

Words--SUSAN EDDY

Music--ROBERT IANNI

Oh, we're the class of 1946,
And we've had lots of fun,
And now that school is almost o'er
We're sorry things are done.
But as we stop and look around
At things familiar, dear,
We know that friendships will endure
That we have started here.

Remember—
Snow piled high on the sidewalks,
And the Junior Prom in spring;
The Senior Play "Stage Door"
And then "Pinafore,"
The exchanging of class rings.
While the Football Team captured honors
And came through with record high
As our loyal girls cheered them onward—
And thus the days sped by.

So we'll remember Rutland High School,
And the friendships we hold dear,
Will carry through to the years to come,
As we go on from here.

This has been the Senior Year, the grandest year of high school. Joe and Jane were important members of the senior class, taking a big part in all activities. Every event that came along found Joe and Jane right up front as enthusiastic supporters.

They were equally as active in the classroom as in the extracurricular field. Neither student was an "A" scholar in every classroom, but each could hold his own in his favorite subject. The class of 1946 wasn't composed of scholars alone, nor were its members out for fun only. It was the mixing of these elements that made this class the best—made each Joe and Jane the proud Senior that he was this year.

IVY ORATION

JUNE 2, 1946

The class of 1946 has gathered together to plant the ivy that will be symbolic of our achievements in life. As we stand here today, we think of the difficulties that this ivy plant will have to overcome, and we realize that we, too, must grow as staunchly as this plant. Its roots will sink firmly into the soil as ours must sink firmly into the world of tomorrow.

I plant this ivy in the hope that it will grow and become an evidence of our appreciation of Rutland High School and the education we have received here.

The National Honor Society

THE PLEDGE

I pledge myself to uphold the high purpose of this society to which I have been elected, striving in every way
by word and deed to make its ideals
the ideals of my school and of my life.

Francis St. Mary, Carol Eaton, Joan Andrews, Donald Paige.

Donald Sherburne, Audrey Perkins, Judith Andrews, Lawrence Duval.

The National Honor Society was organized twenty-five years ago to bring recognition to students of outstanding ability and achievement in the secondary schools of the United States. A need was felt for an organization of this type, and the National Honor Society was brought into existence, patterned after similar honor societies in colleges. Today there are over 2,500 recognized chapters of the society.

In the constitution of the National Honor Society, four cardinal objectives are given as the basic qualities in all educational progress: Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service. It is the aim of the society for its members to exemplify these qualities and to maintain in the school scholarly habits, worthy service, and responsible leadership.

This year in addition to the four members of the class of 1946 selected last year, four members of that class and four members of the class of 1947 were inducted into the Society on April 11, 1946.

First row: Miss Marie Johnson, Faculty Adviser; Cynthia Wilson, Dorothy Perkins, Ruth Eddy, Susan Eddy, Francis St. Mary.

Class History

September of 1942 found the big front doors of R. H. S. opened to admit one hundred and ninety-five cautious and bewildered freshmen. To our unaccustomed eyes the rooms were very strange, the corridors much too long and spacious and the seasoned upperclassmen oh, so sure of themselves with their years of accumulated knowledge and experience at R. H. S.

It was not long, though, before we made our presence known and class rooms, teachers, and students alike became familiar to us.

The seniors invited us to be their guests at the annual Freshman Reception. We took their program of so-called "initiation" in good faith, and although it proved rather disconcerting at times, we emerged much the wiser. We felt then we were really a part of R. H. S.

As our leaders for the school year Gordon Ross was elected President; Donald Perkins, Vice-President; and Ruth Eddy, Secretary-Treasurer. Although as a class few activities were conducted, numerous members of the class were participants in the various clubs and athletic events.

At the beginning of our second year, Bev Kantor was elected to the cheerleading squad and Betty Hayden and Joanne Roberts won places for themselves as drum majorettes in the band.

Tom Ross, Ralph Kehoe, and Ruth Eddy held the class offices and the monetary-minded sophomores engaged themselves in plans for a Sophomore Bazaar which proved most successful, netting for the class $74.

There were only one hundred forty-one boys and girls to return as lofty juniors in the fall of 1944. Several of our number had entered the service of their country. Larry Casey became our president, Cynthia Wilson our vice-president, and Bill Long our secretary-treasurer.

Literary and business-minded members found positions on the Red and White Business Board and Editorial Staff. Among them were Joan Andrews, Cynthia Wilson, Donald Paige, Josephine Spafford, Susan Eddy, Ruth Eddy, Jean Baker, Beverly Kantor, Haven Newton, George Kotuby, Irma Spahn, Donald Gillam, Kathryn Holway, Jane Claypoole, Ilmari Enola, and Beverly Adams.

In April the National Honor Society also inducted as members Susan and Ruth Eddy, Cynthia Wilson, and Dorothy Perkins.

The Junior Prom was the main social event for us that year. With capable co-chairmen Dot Perkins and Gordon Ross, the boys and girls gaily danced in the gym which was festively garbed in evergreen boughs as in Robin Hood's Sherwood Forest. The last assembly of the year was a highlight for us in that more than twenty members of the class became Monitors.

In September of '45 Francis St. Mary was elected to lead the Seniors in their last and most important year at R. H. S. His assistants were Frank Mack as vice-president, Cynthia Wilson in the capacity of secretary, and Rosemary Salebra as treasurer.

It was an exciting and happy fall as the football team captured the honor of being state champs.

The annual Freshman Reception was held with Lloyd Colenback as chairman. At this dance the gym walls were covered with profile sketches of the fellows on the victorious football team.

Jean Alexander was voted Good Citizenship Girl and received a medal from the D. A. R.

Donald Paige became Editor-in-Chief of the Red and White with Haven Newton and Susan Eddy as Assistant Editors and Beverly Adams as Business Manager. Haven was also elected President of the Student Council.

The class actors and actresses were singled out to appear in the Senior Play, "Stage Door" which was most successful. Susan Eddy and Gordon Parker held the leads and many other seniors were in the supporting cast.

The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Pinafore" was also put on for both the student body and the public. Numerous seniors contributed to the success of this musical program.

In their April induction ceremony, the National Honor Society added four more senior members: Joan Andrews, Donald Paige, Francis St. Mary, and Carol Eaton.

High honors went to Cynthia Wilson as Valedictorian and Joan Andrews, Salutatorian, as a result of their high scholastic rating during the four years.

Even though by the calendar our high school days are finished, we shall always carry with us recollections of friendships made and experiences shared.

Class Prophecy

1956! To think that ten years have passed since we were graduated from Rutland High School. We are pleased to see so many at our reunion and know you are interested in your former classmates. We have kept in touch with some of them, and therefore, we can give you an idea of their present positions in life.

Hobart Smith and Stanley Whitney have toured the world four times in quest of a place as peaceful as the '76 Bridge.

Joanne Roberts is owner of La Petite Beauty Salon in Berlin—New York that is, and right next door is Crossman's Repair Shop.

The Dewey button is conspicuous by its absence from the collar of Donald Paige's shirt. He's now supporting the Federalist standard-bearers, honest Don Gillam and Bob Grant.

Robert Ianni is leader of the John Hopkins' swing orchestra. His chirping trio is made up of Beverly Adams, Phyllis VanGuilder, and Calliope Braves.

Clare White and Jean Turner are still trying to change the United States Monetary standard.

Prominently mentioned in the headlines this year is Notre Dame's Ace Quarterback Raymond Ferguson. Head cheerleader at the same school is Ralph Kehoe.

Daisy Koitto is business manager for Ray Murphy's basketball team, the Southend Wildcats. She doesn't have to wait for him anymore.

Eleanor Pulling is still trying to decide who the most important man of the "Big Three" is. Of course, she is being coached by her helper Winona Squier.

Joan McMahon and Patricia Nault are lecturers on "How to Keep Up an Interesting Conversation." Even in school, they were experts on talking.

The Schremly Art exhibit in New York City has caused a great deal of comment lately, especially the beautiful painting by Stratton Corsones called "Saratoga."

Frank Mack is advertising "The Bells of St. Mary's" extensively, because he still believes that the picture was made in honor of his pal, Francis.

Jean Baker and Charles Hoag are attending Russia's school of the dance. Both are majoring in ballet, and we're sure they'll be a credit to our class.

The distinguished authors, Susan Eddy and Beverly Barker, have published a book entitled, "The Boy and the Beaver."

Robert Monahan has finally completed his lines for the senior play. To think he's been saying them for the last ten years and no one has told him the play was over!

Stewart Barrett and Philip Kingsbury are still playing baseball together; only now they're signed with the Red Sox.

After her experience in high school, Dorothy Perkins has decided to publish the history of our class. Who wouldn't be interested in hearing that?

Charlotte Raymond has opened a Dress Design Shop in Paris, and from our reports, she is doing a fine job. Before she left, she rented her camp to Patricia Tennien because she still has interests across the road.

Mary Noble is playing "Back Stage Wife," but we can't figure out who she's wife to.

The Insurance business is booming, now that the famous Mr. Robert Healy, has entered its portals. So remember; if you're in an accident, call on your friend. He's sure to fix you up.

Many of our classmates have turned to teaching, though ten years ago they wouldn't have thought it could happen to them. Patricia Plumley is head of the music department, and now she knows what Mr. Low had to go through. Irma Spahn has taken over Mr. Guild's class. It seems she always loved chemistry, but didn't want anyone to know it. Helen Wilson is teaching United States History, not here, but in West Rutland—in keeping with her interests.

Mary Weir and Dorothy Densmore have come back to their Alma Mater to join Mr. Douglas in forming a track team. It seems the boys will run faster for the girls.

Irene Rouba is still taking her absence slips to Miss Johnson. It's just become a hobby to her.

Charles Lee has been nicknamed "Fearless Charlie" and is known throughout the country for his automobile driving.

Alice Jane Claypoole and Sue Butterfield have become professional basketball referees. Speaking of basketball, Patricia Patterson was voted the most valuable player on the All-American Girls' Basketball Team. Those who watched her play in high school can appreciate this.

Marie Skottet has become a policewoman. Her monitor's position was an incentive to her after all.

Joan Andrews and Carol Eaton have been seen quite frequently on the society pages of the New York papers, and recently they were voted the two best-dressed ladies in the United States.

Cynthia Wilson has become a good private secretary to Sylvia Johnson who is manager of a large department store in Chicago.

Ruth Bootman and Carol Carter are on the staff at the Rutland Hospital. One of their classmates continues to bother them by showing up every few months. It's just that he's grown quite attached to the place.

Dorcas Kinson is manager of a large advertising concern. Lloyd Davis is one of the salesmen. It seems he acquired his sales talk way back in his senior year when he was on the Talisman business board.

It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's just Vernon Cole going by in the Economy truck.

We couldn't give the occupations of all the classmates, but we gave you all our data. The rest—well, you'll have to ask your neighbor.

Class Will

We, the unworldly, unprecedented, uncouth and uncrowned class of 1946, having passed through the portals of Rutland High School, being physically sound and mentally stymied, with mixed emotions of regret and exaltation do hereby make known the following to be our last will and testament, and to be delved into with all ceremony and aplomb:

Home Room 102 reluctantly leaves 102 and Miss Johnson to the oncoming Seniors. One grand teacher and one exciting room. What more could one ask for?

Home Room 101 leaves Mr. Purdy, and his cartoons. We will miss you, Mr. Purdy and we hope you will give your next "houseful" as many laughs as you gave us.

BEV KANTOR leaves the cheering squad with sincere hopes that they meet with as much applause at next year's tourney.

ALBERT BARKER and MERLE WHEELER will their guitars to Jimmie Miller. They are seeking higher fame.

JULIUS GHIO leaves his position in the lunchroom.

JOYCE CHADBURN leaves her lovely red hair as a beacon to future R. H. S'ers.

FRANK MANNEY wills a railroad to Mendon so that all those living between Rutland and Mendon won't have to hitchhike.

Attention! Girls! BOBBY SPAULDING does not leave T. R. However, she does leave her leading roles to Dolores Roberts that she may become R. H. S's next female star.

JACKIE CROSBY leaves even more quietly than she came in.

SIBYL STRONG wills her coy smile to the statue of Demosthenes. She doesn't like a "poker-face."

RAMONA JOHNSON leaves her collection of photographs to decorate the study hall. Just a little amusement for detention frequenters.

JERRY DERBY leaves the candy counter at Woolworth's, sweeter than ever.

CHARLOTTE PITTS leaves her English compositions to the nearest incinerator.

JIMMIE WHITE leaves a friendly smile and a position on the monitor squad to some lucky guy.

ROD CLIFFORD leaves his Poultney women—but not for long.

JO SPAFFORD wills her Red and White column to Little Joe.

BETTY DALEY wills her place on the honor roll to any five people capable of filling it.

ERLE WILSON wills the bottle caps he collected from Roxie's to the Athletic Association. He figures that at least they can fill the holes in the track.

ANNE DENARDO has just left a junior. We are not saying for how long.

JOYCE MURRAY leaves her sister Jean to walk up the Country Club road alone. Uh! Uh! They live up there.

GEORGE KOTUBY wills his trombone to Alvin Edson who insists it is a high fidelity. Never helped you, eh, George?

NORMA WILLIAMS refuses to leave her long tresses. She has consented, however, to will Dartmouth College to an interested junior. Hurry, girls, put in your bid.

MURIEL NUTTING wills her walk up the Post Road to any one who wants it and hopes they will enjoy it, especially on zero mornings.

BILL LONG leaves his car to Buzz Snyder. Paint it black, Buzz. Bill always did find white too conspicuous.

VIVIAN WOOD wills her typing record to any discouraged student to show that it can be done.

DOROTHY GILMAN leaves 101, minus one staunch supporter.

ALBERT KLINK leaves his chemistry ability to the Security Council of the U. N. O. for further experiments on atomic energy.

ROLAND BARTLETT leaves his latest book "Last Night's Date" to amuse those inhabiting the back corner of 101.

WALTER HANSEN leaves still wondering why he came.

EARLE PRATT leaves R. H. S. to meet the fellows at Joe's.

KATHRYN HOLWAY thought of leaving Dick Knipes to the welfare of the underclassmen, but, on second thought, she decided to take him with her.

PAT MINARD leaves R. H. S. in her father's truck. Heading for West Rutland again, we wonder?

TOM ROSS leaves his hospital bed to the athletes wounded in action.

JUANITA UPTON and BETSEY ROYCE will their horsemanship to Ann Archibald. The last time Uppie and Betsey rode they lost two pounds between them and the poor horses lost twelve. All they learned was how to treat callouses.

HAVEN NEWTON leaves. Unlike his jalopy, Haven knows when he is through.

JOHN TOMLINSON leaves for further service in the Vermont State Guard, with Mr. Douglas as an inspiration for high rank.

ROSEMARY SALEBRA leaves the 102 cloakroom. What for?

BETTY ATWOOD wills her harmony composition book for Mr. Low to figure out, she can't.

GORDON PARKER leaves his acting inspirations to Paul Hackel. His ability he carries with him to the footlights of Broadway.

ELEANOR HESCOCK refuses to leave her chocolate sundaes.

LLOYD COLENBACK wills his 1-3 share of "Thelma" to Teddy Corsones. She's all yours, now, Teddy.

HELEN CALLAHAN wills her batting average to sister Frances.

ELSIE PULLING leaves her correspondence to the library to be published in three volumes. The fourth will be completed early in the fall.

Cute JEAN ALEXANDER, our D. A. R. girl, leaves a wealth of memories and happiness, long to be remembered.

JOHN RICHARDS wills his movie stubs to any one starting a collection.

DONALD PERKINS leaves Miss Moran exhausted after those hot arguments in sociology class.

ROBERT SHERWOOD leaves quietly as per usual. No ya-ta-ta, ya-ta-ta for Robert.

HAZEL KINGSBURY leaves. DICK BORAH leaves. Hazel has to get Delbo home by 10:00 sharp.

DOUGLAS SMITH leaves that wreck to Berger and Rosen. His new car is going to have an automatic drive, headed for Proctor.

ILMARI ENOLA leaves his monitor's post at the foot of the stairs with the admonition to future monitors: "In these days of short skirts, keep your eyes on the floor."

AZNEF BIZDIKIAN wills her gift of gab to Joe Davine. Aznef is still talking and Joe hasn't said a word yet.

THELMA WARD leaves a well-beaten path to Chemistry.

CAROL HAYWARD leaves a well of friendship and a record not to be forgotten.

MARY JANE BROWN of the dancing feet, wills her jitter-bug partners to Myrna Monahan.

RUTH EDDY leaves a much-used personality to an incoming freshman. May she put it to as good use as Ruthie has.

JACK KENNEY wills his dates to the Victory Fruit Market.

With still unfaltering spirit on the fourth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred forty-six, we will these, our sole possessions, after we leave, to what is left.

An important part of each year's gala times were the many clubs of R. H. S. Joe and Jane were ardent attendants at all club meetings and occasions, and served well as officers and as committee members.

There was a club for every interest, and Joe and Jane took advantage of every chance to put their talents to work: on assembly programs, advertising children's-aid funds, on the school-adoption project, working on something new for the school, or planning breakfasts and banquets.

Through the varied activities of the clubs at Rutland High School the two and their fellow students and classmates did work this year that was as fine as it was fun.

Band

The activities of the BAND have been numerous and varied this year. Because of the able leadership of Mr. George Low and the hard work of the members, the organization has received recognition as a first class outfit.

Led by drum-major Ray Ferguson and the flashy, white-clad majorettes, the band performed well-executed formations and good marching order at all home football games.

A special feature this year was the concerts given by the combined Black River Academy and Rutland High School bands. A performance was given in Ludlow for the public, and a similar one in Rutland for the student body. An outstanding event this year was the triple appearance of our band at the Southern Vermont Basketball Tournament.

General Wing's homecoming celebration, and Memorial Day activities found R. H. S. participating. The entire band also traveled to the Vermont State Music Festival at Burlington in May.

This year Mr. George H. Low produced a hard-working, energetic, and well-balanced orchestra which carried on a busy and successful program during the school year.

The sections rehearsed separately, enabling each to master its part before combining all in a full orchestra rehearsal. This tended to give the orchestra better balance.

The string section welcomed enthusiastically several new members as they made it possible to carry on an extensive program this year. The strings were invited to play for social gatherings at the Community House, at Trinity Church, at the Methodist Church, and they gave demonstrations at several of the larger schools in Rutland. This section of the orchestra also went to the Vermont State Music Festival.

Performances for various assemblies, Mimes productions, the Senior Play and the December 7th Pearl Harbor Day Assembly kept the orchestra members well occupied. Extra special was the orchestral rendition of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "Pinafore." Much hard work and time went into its production, with the orchestra doing its part in a successful performance.

Foreground: Susan Eddy, Donald Sherburne, Patricia Plumley, Robert Willson, Gordon Parker.

Litamis Club

The LITAMIS CLUB was organized to give students the opportunity of working with the books in the school library. The members of the club helped the librarian, Mrs. Margaret Candon, prepare new books to be put on the shelves for circulation.

During the course of the year, several currently popular books were reviewed by guest speakers and members of the club. During Book Week fine displays of international souvenirs were made in the library. These displays were augmented by colorful posters.

One of the major events of the year for the club was the April 25th Assembly, conducted to award prizes in the New Home Library Contest. The assembly was led by club members and featured a speech by Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

Other activities of the fifteen members were: sandwich sales, the polishing of the R. H. S. trophies, and the annual final party of the year.

Girls' Glee Club

From the large number of tryouts for the GIRLS' GLEE CLUB, about fifty students were chosen. These girls combined their four-part harmony with that for the Boys' Glee Club, to produce several fine musical programs under the direction of Mr. George H. Low.

During the Christmas season, a repeat performance of Clokley's cantata, "The Childe Jesus," was presented to the public on December 23, after changes and improvements had been made.

The outstanding production of the year was the performance of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore." The combined boys' and girls' choruses, with orchestral accompaniment gave afternoon and evening performances of the complete opera. The girls in the chorus wore the colorful costumes of English village belles. Later in the spring, selections from "H. M. S. Pinafore" were presented at the Community House for the Rutland Community Club.

The Vermont State Music Festival having resumed its annual activities, nine girls from the Glee Club went to Burlington to join the state chorus, and the entire Glee Club attended the Festival for one day.

First row: Patricia Plumley, Barbara Rich, Joanne Buttles, Patricia Galerneau, Romona Cook, Julia Edgerton, June Taggart, Joanne Hoag, Marian Bryant, Myrna Monahan, Celestine Raymond.

The BOYS' GLEE CLUB is a comparatively new organization at Rutland High School. This year, from many enthusiastic tryouts, the forty best voices were chosen and work was started by Mr. George H. Low on numerous musical selections for a variety of programs.

Combining with the Girls' Chorus, the Glee Club spent many hours in preparation for the presentation of "The Childe Jesus" at Christmastime. A new stage backdrop was made for the cantata, which added color to the performance.

On March 21 and 22, the boys donned their English sailor suits and lustily sang the tunes from the popular Gilbert and Sullivan opera "H. M. S. Pinafore." On the last Wednesday in April they repeated selections from "Pinafore" for members of the Rutland Community Club. May 11, the entire chorus went to the Vermont State Festival.

Monitor Squad

Head Monitor	GEORGE KOTUBY
Secretary	JEAN ALEXANDER
Treasurer	FRANK MACK

An efficient, helpful crew of twenty-six Monitors directed traffic and kept the halls orderly between classes and at the opening and closing of school sessions during the school year. These monitors were selected for their qualities of leadership, dependability, character and scholarship.

The Squad served on various occasions at school activities, such as the Pearl Harbor Day Assembly where a group of Monitors kept students orderly.

Miss Katherine Moran, faculty adviser, was assisted by Miss Vera Egelston and Mr. Edmund Boyce.

The big social function of the year was the Monitors' Dance. Under the supervision of Glendon Crossman, this was a success financially as well as socially. In February, a movie was sponsored for the student body. To the enjoyment of lunch-room students, the Monitor Squad also undertook the job of selling candy during the noon-hour.

Rear: Beverly Kantor, Donald Perkins, Carol Carter, Julius Ghio, William Long, Francis St. Mary, Miss Katherine M. Moran, Faculty Adviser, Glendon Crossman, Lloyd Davis, Ilmari Enola, Donald Paige, Donald Gillam.

Commuters' Club

The COMMUTERS' CLUB was again one of the school's largest organizations with a total membership of fifty-two students. Under the leadership of President Norma Williams, a moving picture was shown in the school auditorium and admission was charged. It proved to be more profitable than the annual Commuters' Club Dance. Ping pong games and shuffleboard were the chief indoor attractions for members.

Other officers of the club were Rosemary Salebra, vice-president; Charlotte Raymond, secretary; and John Filippo, treasurer.

Advisers to the Club were Miss Vera Perkins, Miss Kathleen Chandler, and Mr. Ellery Purdy.

First row: Mary Jane Borah, Margaret Duclou, Marilyn Danforth, Charlotte Raymond, Norma Williams, Betsy Royce, Winona Squiers, Rosemary Salebra, Patricia Tennien.
 Second row: Helen Raymond, Cathryn Tennien, Shirley Minard, Philip Kingsbury, John Tomlinsong, Julius Ghio, Richard White, Cynthia Wilson.
 Third row: Dena Ghio, Beverly Smith, Betty Stillwell, Rose Pippen, Joanne Denardo, Milton Squiers, Gordon Johnson, George Gerdon, Gilbert Young.
 Fourth row: Virginia Hesse, Carol Raymond, Helen Callahan, Sue Butterfield, Jean Alexander, Ann Denardo, Frank Chapman, William Wild.

Mimes Club

The MIMES CLUB under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Morrill, and the JUNIOR MIMES CLUB under the guidance of Mrs. Elizabeth Greene, have enjoyed a year full of achievement in the course of which several promising actors and actresses have been discovered.

These two dramatic clubs, grouped according to previous experience, numbered about seventy-five in all. Several performances were put on through the cooperation of both clubs, among which were: "Tomorrow the World," "The Ghost Story," "To Be Or Not To Be," and "The Missing Link."

For club members, Mimes presented: "Our American Girls" and "Not Quite Such a Goose," while Junior Mimes did "The Frogs" and several extemporaneous skits. Costume, scenery and make-up demonstrations were given at many of the meetings.

In addition, the clubs performed in public for such groups as the Rutland High School P. T. A., the Community Club, the Hexagon Club, pay assemblies at school, and the State One-Act Play Contest in which "To the Lovely Margaret" placed third in the regional contest.

Officers for the year were: Mimes, Carol Eaton, president; Barbara Spaulding, vice-president; Joan Andrews, secretary; George Taylor, treasurer. Junior Mimes, president, Mary Gay Eddy; secretary, Janice Carlisle.

First row: Mrs. Mabel Morrill, Faculty Adviser; Mary Jane Brown, Shirley Wolinsky, Rosemary Alebra, Joanne Roberts, Patricia Patterson, Dorothy Perkins, Esther Hale, Joy Frisch, Patricia Galarneau, Virginia Smith, Erwin Towne, Mrs. Elizabeth Greene, Faculty Adviser.
Third row: Barbara Rich, Mary Gay Eddy, Joan Mintzer, Elise Plude, Delores Roberts, Betty Stillwell, Joan McKerley, Claire LaCroix, George Taylor, Patricia Hubbard, Marion Bryant, Mary Jane Borah.
Fourth row: William Holway, Robert Rogers, Janice Carlisle, Dorcas Kinson, Jean Baker, Joyce Murray, Patricia Nault, Carol Raymond, Marion Walker, Paul Hackel, Beverly Lash, Frederick Cook.
Fifth row: Robert Willson, Marie Richards, Lucille Paige, Jean Murray, Betty Baker, Mary Jane Anderson, Myrna Monahan, Carol Hayward, Judith Andrews.
Sixth row: Thomas Pease, Jacqueline Duffy, William Long, Gordon Parker, James White, Harold Murray, Francis Rice, John Kinney.

Latin Club

First row: Ruth Eddy, Calliope Braves, Hazel Kingsbury, Norma Williams, Miss Kathleen Chandler, Faculty Adviser.
Second row: Marion Bryant, Geraldine Phillips, William Wild, Marilyn Smith, Beverly Kantor.
Third row: Susan Eddy, George Gerdon, Patricia Hubbard, Beverly Gibbs, Robert Rogers, Patricia Keating, Eugene Grippin.

The Latinites of Rutland High School have completed a most active and constructive year. Meetings of the LATIN CLUB were held on the first and third Thursdays of each month and programs taken from the background of the Romans were organized. A few of these programs included: a meeting of the Roman Senate, a Roman Style Show, a prophecy by the Delphic Oracle, and numerous songs and games.

On January 25th, the members put on a school assembly for the benefit of the student body. Roman songs were sung, and plays based on ancient Roman life were presented.

On April 9th, the clubsters met at 7:30 A.M. in the school cafeteria and held a breakfast in the fashion of the Romans. All present were garbed in white togas. Grape juice, a variety of fruits, and bread and honey composed the meal.

Miss Kathleen Chandler was Faculty Adviser to the group whose officers were: Ruth Eddy, president; Norma Williams, vice-president; Calliope Braves, secretary-treasurer.

French Club

First row: Miss Carolyn Allen, Faculty Adviser; Donald Sherburne, Fred Cook, Betty Atwood, Mary Jane Brown, Carol Hayward, Joan Andrews, Joy Frisch, Patricia Galarneau, Virginia Smith.
 Second row: Warren Bergstrom, Benjamin Butterfield, Dorcas Kinson, Jean Baker, Juanita Upton, Barbara Spaulding, Audrey Perkins, Charlotte Smith, Jane Rudin, Carol Cook.

Inspired by last year's sale of almost two thousand dollars in bonds, the forty-five members of the FRENCH CLUB determined on an equally active program this year. The group so successfully raised money in a Penny Drive that they now sponsor a school in Pas-de-Calais, France, and are part-sponsor of a boy in Marseilles. To their school they have sent two hundred pounds of clothing, food and soap; and Jacques, also, has received a gift. A gala Mardi Gras climaxed the year, transforming the gymnasium into a colorful carnival grounds. Other highlights include a description of his trip to Quebec by Donald Sherburne, and an "amplified" concert of French music by Alvin Edson. Also, the members bought club pins. In May they went on record as urging that Dr. Stephen A. Freeman be brought to Rutland as a speaker at the County Forum.

Officers were: Carol Hayward, president; Betty Atwood, secretary; Mary Beauchamp, treasurer; Ann Schremly, program chairman; Barbara Spaulding, corresponding secretary. Chairmen of the projects were: Marilyn Carlisle, Carol Cook, Joan Andrews and Beverly Barker.

Red and White

During the past year the RED AND WHITE, under the editorship of Donald Paige, conducted some interesting journalistic experiments. One of these consisted of inserting an extra-page supplement in the Thanksgiving and Graduation issues. This allowed more space for ads and special news and features. Somewhat wider use of photo cuts increased the interest of the paper. Besides several news photos, cuts of some staff members were used to identify their columns. Two great events for the staff were the "scoops" on the National Honor Society induction and the Senior Honor students which were made possible by publishing the paper a day later than usual.

The RED AND WHITE banquet, an annual event, was held on April 18. After dinner, the members were conducted through the Rutland Herald establishment. Comparisons were made between the work and methods of publication of the Red and White and this daily paper.

The staff sponsored two movie assemblies during the year, both of which were financially successful. The advertisers also cooperated to make the Red and White economically sound. Miss Audrey St. Clair acted as Faculty Adviser.

 Second row: Ilmari Enola, Jane Claypoole, Richard Paul, William Wild, Kathryn Holway, Robert Hathaway.
 Third row: Haven Newton, Beverly Kantor, Donald Gillam, Geraldine Phillips, Irma Spahn, Lorraine Bleickhardt.
 Fifth row: Miss Audrey St. Clair, Faculty Adviser; Cynthia Wilson, George Kotuby, Susan Eddy, Josephine Spafford, Robert Noble.

Home Economics

Treasurer	RUTH BOOTMAN

A worthwhile organization is the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB, under the supervision of Miss Vera A. Perkins. It is affiliated with the State Home Economics Club, and therefore the members attended several district meetings. The activities of the club during the first part of the year were directed toward filling a Christmas box for a small child. The latter part was devoted to plans for a style show in which the members modeled clothing for different occasions.

Throughout the year several meetings were given over to discussion about improving civic conditions in our own school. A Christmas party and a Valentine party aroused marked interest among the members.

A club of this sort helps a girl personally by teaching her good taste in appearance and manner, by practical instruction in domestic duties and, socially, by making her conscious of the needs of others and various ways of being helpful to those less fortunate than herself.

Vice-President	NICHOLAS GAROFANO
Secretary-Treasurer	RALPH SHANGRAW

The STUDENT COUNCIL under its able president, Haven Newton, turned in a fine record this year. The group consisted of twenty-two members, representing home rooms and several organizations.

With Mr. Howard Douglas as Faculty Adviser, the Council took charge of all voting in class elections and continued the competitive home room inspections. An extra project undertaken by the organization was that of collecting old clothes to send to Kentucky in exchange for Christmas greens. The Council accepted a gift of ten dollars from last year's senior class, and sent the "Mayflower" to a "repair yard" to be reconditioned for future use. The Pearl Harbor Day bond and stamp rally, the last one to be held, was a success because of the efforts of the Student Council and the support of the student body which bought almost three thousand dollars worth of "goods."

President Newton's suggestion of changing the Student Council election time from the fall to the spring term was enthusiastically received, and added to the constitution. By springtime even the Freshmen have had time to find out who is best qualified to take office, and this change in election time makes it possible for those elected to take office at the beginning of the school year.

Sports are among the greatest crowd-gatherers during any season, and Joe and Jane were always present, on the field or in the bleachers.

They were cheering squad and team, rooters and runners. Weather couldn't faze them, nor could a hearty, opposing team. Freezing football weather, packed bleachers at basketball games, rainy days of baseball, or sun-scorching afternoons of track meets saw Joe and Jane on hand to pull our team through.

Second row: Edward Godnick, Roderick Clifford, Carleton Laird, Hubert Hinds, Donald LaFrancois, Lawrence Duval.
Third row: John Kelley, John Kellogg, Mr. Leo Keefe, Faculty Adviser; Donald Johnson, Joseph Davine.
Fourth row: Theodore Munsat, Howard Nason, Charles Hoag, Francis St. Mary, William Wild, Donald Gillam.
Fifth row: James White, Robert Kingsbury, William Long, Glendon Crossman.

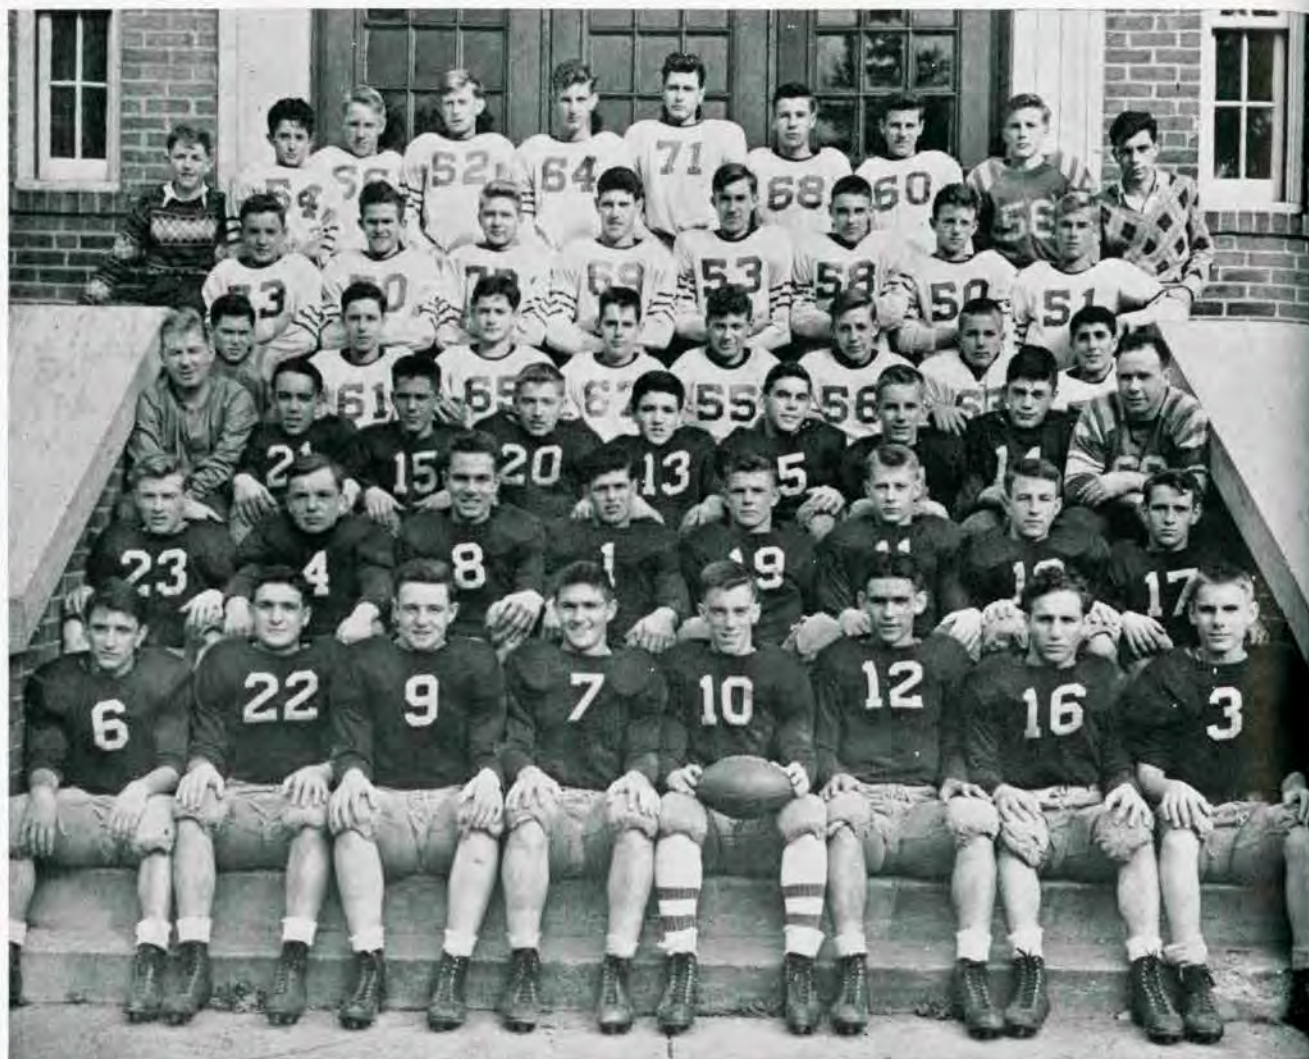

The VARSITY CLUB, an exclusively athletic organization, was composed of thirty-four members this year. The purpose of the Club is to win honor for the Varsity letter, and to create respect for it at all times.

Old members of the Club were Ralph Kehoe, Rod Clifford, Lloyd Colenback, Francis St. Mary, Tom Ross, Stratton Corsones, Roland Bartlett, and Donald Gillam, seniors; and Ted Corsones, Dick Laird, Joe Davine, and Bruce Wing, juniors.

New members from the senior class were: Bill Long, Chuck Hoag, Glen Crossman, Jack Richards, and James White. New juniors were: Don Johnson, Don LeFrancois, Jack Kellogg, Tom Smith, Larry Duval, Bob Kingsbury, Jack Kelly, Hubie Hinds, William Wild and Patsy Polcaro; while Ed Godnick, Winnie Goodspeed, Howard Nason and Ted Munsat were admitted to membership from the sophomore class.

Officers for the year were: Ralph Kehoe, president; Tom Smith, vice-president; and Howard Nason, secretary-treasurer. Activities for the year included the annual Rutland High School Invitation Basketball Tournament for high school freshmen and sophomores. The Club also sponsored their first annual banquet in May.

Football

First row: Thomas Ross, Stratton Corsones, Roderick Clifford, Theodore Corsones, Ralph Kehoe, Captain; Francis St. Mary, Edward Godnick, Lloyd Colenback.
 Fourth row: Francis Johnson, John Filippo, Dudley North, Robert Hesse, Roy Plumley, George Palsa, Robert Eaton, Norman Lash.

The Red Raider State Champion football team started off at a gallop, slowed down to a trot, then galloped on again, over all opposition, for their first undefeated record in eighteen years.

CAPTAIN RALPH KEHOE

With only five returning lettermen to bolster the ranks, Coach Leo Keefe was forced to build around them, Captain Ralph Kehoe, Francis St. Mary, Tommy Ross, Stratty Corsones, and Teddy Corsones. He had able material in Larry Duval, Bob Kingsbury, Lloyd Colenback, Roddy Clifford, Eddy Godnick, Winnie Goodspeed, and Tom Smith.

The opening game of the season was an easy victory for Rutland as the entire team ran wild, swamping Windsor 48-6. Captain "Kid" Kehoe, "Terror" Ross, and Roddy Clifford starred.

Beating Whitehall 14-0 the next Saturday was a victory in more ways than one. It was the first time in nine years that Rutland had beaten Whitehall, and it made everyone happy, except Whitehall. T. Ross, R. Clifford and Larry Duval were outstanding. The Raiders won their third straight over Montpelier 14-0, in spite of bad weather.

Continuing on the victory trail, the team smashed Springfield 38-6, which was sweet revenge for last year's crushing defeat. However, a keen loss was felt when the services of Tommy Ross were lost as he broke his collar-bone and was out for the rest of the season. The deadly Kehoe-to-Colenback passing combination was revealed for the first time.

The Raiders showed their poorest form of the season when they defeated Burlington 12-0, but recaptured their old form the next week as they went on to defeat Bellows Falls 24-14 in an extremely hard-fought game. The entire team played beautiful ball led by the efforts of Kehoe, Clifford, Colenback and Godnick. An outstanding feature of the game was that only three penalties were called throughout the game.

The whole team took part in swamping Brattleboro 53-6. "Injun Joe" St. Mary was a standout on defense.

Rolling on to their eighth straight victory with the passing combination of Kehoe - to - Colenback working to perfection, they cake-walked over West Rutland to the tune of 41-0.

In the last and most exciting game of the year, Rutland edged out M. S. J. 2-0. The team as a whole played very well. Stratty Corsones played his best game of the year while Kehoe and Clifford climaxed their high school football careers with beautiful performances.

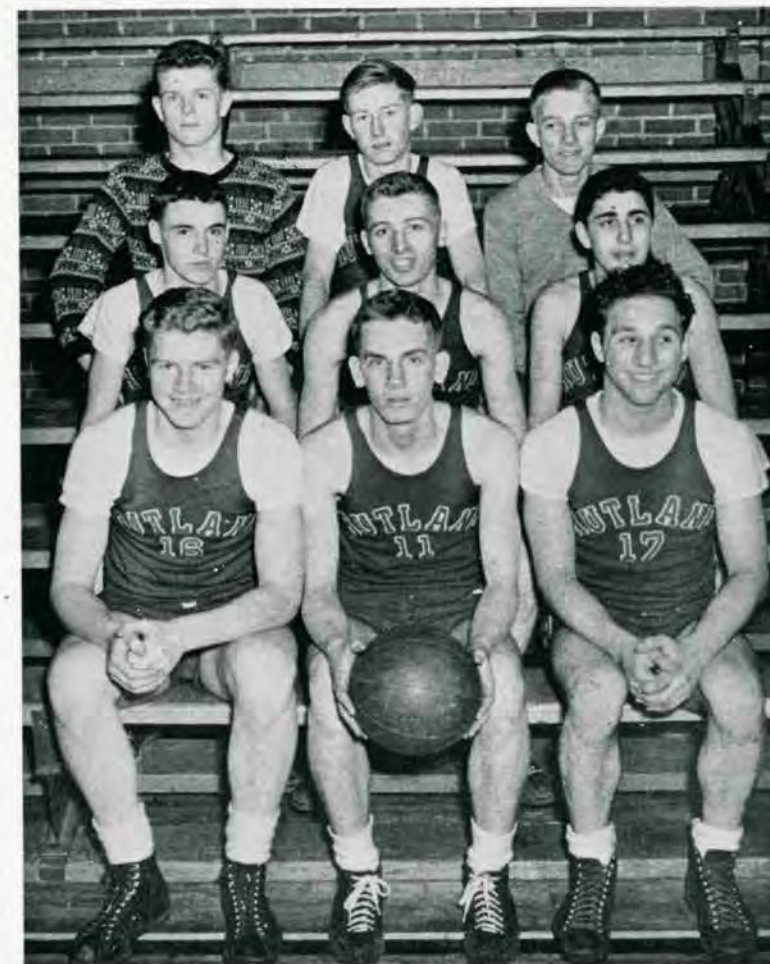

The perfect end to a perfect season for Coach Keefe was in his being voted "Coach of the Year." Four members of the "Varsity" made "All-State": Ralph Kehoe, who made the quarterback position and also received the captaincy; Rod Clifford at right half; Lloyd Colenback at right end; and Teddy Corsones at the right guard post.

Franny St. Mary and Larry Duval failed, by two and one votes respectively, to make first team but were placed on second team. Gold footballs were awarded to members of the team by Mr. Gus Corsones, head of the Athletic Committee of the School Board, at the regular assembly for athletic awards.

Graduation takes Kehoe, Clifford, Colenback, Stratty Corsones, St. Mary, Ross and Hoag. Returning regulars will be Captain-elect Teddy Corsones, Ed Godnick, Winnie Goodspeed, Bob Kingsbury, Larry Duval, and Tom Smith.

Jayvee Basketball

First row: Wayne Greene, Hubert Hinds, Edward Godnick.
Second row: William Grace, Winslow Goodspeed, Norman Lash.

One of the main reasons for establishing a JUNIOR VARSITY team is to develop boys who will play on the varsity team in the next few years. This year's Jayvee squad was made up of Jack Kelly, who was high scorer of the team, Glendon Crossman, William Grace, Hubert Hinds, Richard Davidson, Winslow Goodspeed, and Charles Brush.

During the 1945-46 basketball season they played a total of twenty-one games, of which thirteen were league contests.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the team was the winning of every Jayvee League game, thus capturing the title of "Southern Vermont Jayvee Champs." They also went on to defeat the M. S. J. Jayvees twice, to win the Jayvee city championship.

During the entire season, the team lost only three games, and only one of these was to a high school jayvee team.

First row: Theodore Corsones, Lloyd Colenback, Ralph Kehoe, Captain, Joseph Davine, Stratton Corsones.
 Second row: Charles Hoag, Patsy Polcaro, Glendon Crossman, John Kelly, Carleton Laird.
 Third row: James White, Manager; Coach Leo Keefe, Roderick Clifford, Manager.

Varsity Basketball

Rutland's Red Raiders compiled another highly successful basketball record under Coach Leo Keefe, winning sixteen games and losing five. The usual jinx happened, however, to offset a very good league-record as Rutland lost to Bellows Falls in the opening game of the Southern Vermont tournament by a score of 44 to 38.

Although there were five returning lettermen, namely Captain Ralph Kehoe, Stratton Corsones, Lloyd Colenback, Dick Laird, and Joe Davine, Coach Keefe had to use a new combination due to the loss of John Ferraro, last year's ace, and Gordon Ross.

Regulars on this year's Varsity were: Colenback, Davine, Kehoe, Stratty Corsones and Teddy Corsones. Glen Crossman, Chuck Hoag, Porky Polcaro, Jack Kelly and Dick Laird were boys who saw plenty of action.

After winning from Middlebury College J. V.'s, Bellows Free Academy, Whitehall, the Alumni, and Spaulding in non-league tilts, Rutland easily defeated Hartford in their first league game. Mount Saint Joseph was next to feel the hatchet and was defeated by a score of 31-22. Rutland continued, winning nine successive games before bowing to Windsor 27-22. Rutland came back furiously in their next game to defeat Springfield 39-37, pinning the first and only defeat on the Cosmopolites by a Vermont aggregation.

The second battle of the season with M. S. J. was a thriller, as the team edged out a victory 39-37 in a nip-and-tuck battle. Rutland suffered its second defeat at the hands of a strong Bellows Falls team, 37-32. Coming back to the Victory Trail, Rutland blazed out wins over Brattleboro and Hartford, only to lose to Springfield 53-31 in the final league tilt. Rutland, however, was second to Springfield in Southern Vermont League standings. The last game of the season before the tournament Rutland lost to a powerful Whitehall five 41-32.

Captain Ralph Kehoe played an exceptionally good game at guard and center, and scored 265 points in the season, placing second in the S. V. L. scoring. He was also elected to the All-Tournament team and was selected captain.

Varsity men lost by graduation will be Ralph Kehoe, Stratty Corsones, Lloyd Colenback, Glen Crossman and Chuck Hoag. Returning lettermen will be Teddy Corsones, Joe Davine, Porky Polcaro, and Dick Laird.

Baseball

The Raider baseball crew looked forward to a successful season this year with the return of a few veterans and Coach Lloyd Flaitz. The Redmen had a fairly tough schedule consisting of fourteen games.

After the large squad of candidates was cut, the Raiders settled down for their games. The pitching assignments were taken by Ralph Kehoe, Tom Smith and Al Rousseau. Collecting their servings at the other end of the plate was Dick Laird. Howard Nason and Larry Duval alternated at first base with Kehoe. Tom "Redman" Ross held down the keystone sack with Bill Grace as an understudy, while Lloyd Colenback played the shortstop position. Porky Polcaro and Dick Davidson held down the third base assignments. Out in the field were Rod Clifford, Jack Kelly, Duval and Tom Gillam.

The team started off in good form, winning their first five games, most of them by very good margins. When the Talisman went to press, the Raiders had defeated their arch rivals, M. S. J., in every athletic contest this year, and the baseball squad endeavored to keep the slate clean.

The four graduating members of the team were: Ralph Kehoe, pitcher and first base; Tom Ross, second base; Lloyd Colenback, shortstop; and Rod Clifford, fielder.

The CLASS BASKETBALL LEAGUE under the supervision of Coach Leo Keefe and with the assistance of four varsity players, was continued after a lapse of one year. The schedule of forty-eight games was run off smoothly. The object of this league is to find hidden talent and to develop enthusiasm, and basketball players for future years.

The school championship honors went to the Senior quintet, who suffered only one defeat. Led offensively by "Don" Perkins, "Bob" Grant and "Rod" Clifford, and defensively by "Fran" St. Mary and Frank Mack, the team succeeded in compiling an excellent record.

The Juniors had the satisfaction of being the only team to win over the Seniors, but had to be content with second honors. The Sophomores with George Ackley, "Bob" Crossman, and "Ted" Munsat leading the attack, took third position. Victims of all the games were the Freshmen. Steadily improving throughout the season, the boys gained experience which enabled them to win the R. H. S. Invitation Freshman-Sophomore Tournament.

SENIORS

First row: Donald Perkins, Francis St. Mary, George Kotuby, Delmar Borah.
 Second row: Robert Grant, Frank Mack, William Long, Stewart Barrett.
 Third row: Robert Eaton, Roderick Clifford.

SOPHOMORES

FRESHMEN

 Second row: Gilbert Young, Richard Roe, Roy Plumley, Robert Willson.
 Third row: Dudley North, Sam Heleba.

Ski Team

With Coach Francis Bean's elevation to principal of Meldon, the SKI TEAM had to secure a new coach and finally George Nickerson was induced to fill that position.

The first meet, a slalom with Springfield at Pico, was a run-away, with the Raiders scooping up the first four places. The state meet, slalom and downhill, at Pico was captured by the team so they took the trip to Lyndon for the jump and cross-country, only to drop to the bottom from lack of experience. Another trip, to Woodstock, saw the team closely defeated on Suicide 6 and rang down the curtain on a very short season.

A raffle was held, again this year, in the latter part of January only to have the tables turned with Coach Nickerson being the lucky winner!

Outstanding competitive ability was shown by the members of the team this year. Captain Don Gillam took many honors and was followed by Tom Gillam and George Peck, both turning in fine records for themselves.

Track

With only four lettermen returning to the cinder paths, Francis St. Mary, Bill Long, Ralph Kehoe, and Bob Kingsbury, Coach Howard Douglas had his work cut out for him in whipping up a good TRACK TEAM.

Those expected to shine this year were Bill Long in the discus throw, and Francis St. Mary in the hurdles and broad jumps. Bob Kingsbury looked good in the mile and the half-mile while Jack Jones and Frank Mack took care of the 440. George Kotuby ran the hurdles and also high jumped. John Richards took part in the high hurdles, shot-put, pole-vault, and javelin-throw.

Others who made the trip to Burlington for the first meet were William Bidgood, Ralph Elmore, Donald Sherburne, Richard Levine, Richard Knipes, Lloyd Kelley, and George Palsa. Track manager for the season was George Taylor. Due to the Talisman deadline, it was impossible to cover any of the meets for this year.

SCHEDULE

Lyndon Institute	There	May	18
District Meet	Here	May	25
State Meet	Lyndon	June	1

 Second row: Hazen Moore, Philip Kingsbury, Lloyd Kelley, George Pike, Alfred Bumps, Richard Blongy, Dudley North, Frank Mack, Haven Newton, Floyd Bennett, Ralph Elmore.

HOME ROOM CHAMPIONS—102

Girls' Home Room Basketball

The Girls of R. H. S. have participated in HOME ROOM BASKETBALL COMPETITION again this year. Following in the steps of a Senior aggregation from 102 last year, a team from that same home room this season proved themselves the best girls' combination in the school. In the final contest, 102 successfully downed a high-spirited Junior combine from 201.

As in other years, four girls from the Girls' Leaders Corps served as a committee to plan and manage the contests. A test was given to all girls interested in refereeing, and through this plan it was hoped that more detailed interest in basketball, and better sportsmanship and playing ability, would be encouraged. These games served as a welcome diversion for the athletic-minded girls of the student body.

Captains and Managers, first row: Joanne Buttles, Virginia Smith.
Second row: Darleyne Hart, Marion Robinson, Shirley Morris.
Third row: Romona Cook, Judith Andrews, Betty Stillwell, Shirley Morris.
Fourth row: Sue Butterfield, Barbara Flanders, Esther Hale, Velma Kingsbury, Jean Alexander, Patricia Tennien.

Girls' Leaders Corps

Although not as active as in other years, the GIRLS' LEADERS CORPS has nevertheless enjoyed a most successful and useful academic year. The twenty members combined their efforts and talents toward directing the sports activities, and also enjoyed the monthly social gatherings that took place during the year.

Cooperating with Mrs. Mona Lorette, Faculty Adviser, the following acted as chairmen of the various yearly activities:

Hockey	Dorothy Perkins
Basketball	Ruth Eddy, Patricia Patterson
Softball	Jean Alexander
Badminton	Beverly Kantor

Members decided, at the end of the year, to spend the existing funds of the Corps for a practical piece of equipment for the Athletic Department.

First row: Jean Alexander, Dorothy Perkins, Patricia Patterson, Joan Andrews, Beverly Kantor, Ruth Eddy.
Second row: Barbara Flanders, Esther Hale, Patricia Minard, Beverly Barker, Susan Butterfield.
Third row: Lorraine Bleickhardt, Joy Frisch, Marion Robinson, Rosemary Salebra, Jane Claypoole.
Fourth row: Judith Andrews, Carol Eaton, Jean Baker.

Girls' Field Hockey

Early last fall, as soon as R. H. S.'ers drifted back to school, lassies from all four classes wielded their HOCKEY sticks through numerous encounters, with the Seniors triumphantly fighting through to capture the title of Girls' Hockey Champions. The games were spiritedly played and were capably organized and managed by Dot Perkins, Carol Eaton and Barb Flanders.

This outdoor sport, always keenly enjoyed by the girls of Rutland High School, found this season's participants equally eager and active.

First row: Ruth Eddy, Mary Jane Brown, Joanne Roberts, Jean Baker, Patricia Patterson, Rosemary Salebra, Barbara Spaulding, Carol Eaton, Beverly Barker, Patricia Minard, Dorothy Perkins, Patricia Tennien, Jean Alexander, Sue Butterfield.

Second row: Rosemary Flanders, Betty Baker, Barbara Flanders, Esther Hale, Cathryn Tennien, Darleyne Hart, Mary Jane Borah, Shirley Peters, Lucille Paige, Jean Murray, Carol Raymond, Jacqueline Duffy.

Third row: Marjorie Perkins, Joy Frisch, Charlotte Smith, Marion Robinson, Mary Gay Eddy, Janice Carlisle, Romona Cook, Claire LaCroix, Joanne Manley, Delores Roberts, Kenna Hansen, Betty Stillwell.

Fourth row: Patricia Hubbard, Judith Andrews, Geraldine Phillips, Ann Archibald, Elizabeth Ewing, Shirley Minard, Elise Plude, Lillian Paul, Anne Laliberte, Elinor Ingalls, Joan McKerley, Shirley Morris.

When Joe and Jane weren't in school, they were usually down town. All roads from R. H. S. seemed to end on Merchants Row and Center Street. Always busy eating gigantic sundaes or sodas, window shopping, "trying out" music, or generally "just looking," they met many of the business people of Rutland and made friends among them.

It has been the fine cooperation of these business people that has made possible many of the activities of the class of 1946. Joe and Jane send their thanks to these business men and they hope you'll read their advertisements.

The present
Wilson Clothing Company
 in
 -- 1881 --

What progress and changes will you graduates and undergrads of today see and experience and bring about in the next five, six and seven decades?

These were the days of stock shelved most to the ceiling, where fur coats and flickering carbon street lights were hung. Suits and overcoats were piled on tables, shirts and ties displayed on nickel wall racks. This interior picture is of a bit later period, around 1890. We are proud to have one member from the group of that day still active in our organization, Nazaire D. Ostiguy---"Joe" to you and us (left foreground).

In succeeding years different store fronts were installed. Interior changes were made, newer lighting systems, fixtures and customer conveniences came and went as the men of those days improved working and living conditions. Yes, "times have changed" and, as you grow older, times will continue to change. When you of these coming decades stop striving to improve your "times" then the world will have reached a sorry point, but that day will never come.

Some things, however, must not be changed. Store policies, values, courtesy, and continuous striving to see that every customer is a satisfied customer, and a friend. These things must not change.

DESIGNED AND BUILT BY HOWE

A SCALE THAT WAS BUILT
to Weigh a Dream...

On Consolidated Vultee's drawing boards a dream is taking shape. A dream about giant airliners of tomorrow woven from today's super-bombers. A dream so near reality that a scale with the tremendous capacity of 250 tons—almost ten times the weight of the famous B-24 Liberator—has been designed and built by Howe to weigh it. The largest airplane scale of the knife-edge type known, it is so fast, so accurate that with it three men now weigh the B-24 in 30 minutes to within an accuracy of 1/40th of one per cent!

Three separate scales comprise this unique weighing instrument, one under each of the front wheels and one under the tail wheel. The main gear platform scales are 25 feet long, 9 feet wide, and are set in a pit 9 feet deep leaving the platform flush with the floor so planes may be easily rolled onto the scales. Each has a capacity of 100 tons. The auxiliary, or tail scale, has a 50 ton capacity. It is 12½ feet long and mounted on a railroad car which runs in a 75 foot long pit to accommodate planes of any length. Special screw jacks raise the platform 34 inches above and lower it 12 inches below the floor level so a plane can be weighed in various positions to determine the center of gravity. The scale mechanism, including electrical equipment and motors, is explosion-proof to prevent a spark from igniting gasoline fumes.

Whether to weigh "dream planes" or for a routine application, there is a Howe Scale to assure you of accuracy and dependability. Howe manufactures special and standard scales that meet every weighing need for every industry. Further information or advice on your weighing problems will be supplied gladly.
